PRESS RELEASE

TULARE COUNTY SUPERIOR COURT APPOINTS JON RIESENBECK AS COMMISSIONER

The Tulare County Superior Court has announced Jon A. Riesenbeck was selected as Tulare County's newest Commissioner.

After a competitive recruitment and interview process, the Tulare County bench selected Riesenbeck to preside over the court's AB1058 child support matters in both the Dinuba and South County locations.

"After many years as an exemplary attorney dedicated to serving the families of Tulare County, we are proud to have Mr. Riesenbeck join our bench. We are confident that his strong and proven work ethic, intellect, attention to detail, and unflappable demeanor will serve him well as judicial officer for many years to come." said Assistant Presiding Judge and Supervising Family Law Judge, Tara James.

"Mr. Riesenbeck's 12 years as a Senior Attorney at the Tulare County Department of Child Support Services have uniquely prepared him to serve as a child support commissioner. He has spent a significant amount of his career in Tulare County courtrooms and is well known and respected by the bench and local attorneys." added Court Executive Officer, Stephanie Cameron.

Riesenbeck attended UCLA earning bachelor's degrees in history and classical civilization as well as a Juris Doctor. Riesenbeck is a veteran having served in the United States Marine Corp.

Commissioners are subordinate judicial officers employed by the court to hear matters as assigned pursuant to statute or stipulation.
